The Minerva Foundation
Mentoring Programme for Leaders and Managers

When the Minerva Foundation carried out its first mentoring programme in 1992, the objective was to increase leadership competence and to form rewarding networks in Dalarna.

Our national and international projects have given us an extensive network of contacts in Europe with organisations involved in leadership issues, equal opportunities and diversity.

We offer mentoring programmes for leaders and managers in private companies and the public sector.

Marianne Lundberg
Chairperson
Minerva Foundation

Cecilia Åhlberg
Office manager, private customers,
Leksands Sparbank

I developed as a leader during the mentoring programme. Now, I am actively involved in strategic decisions, delegate more responsibility and get to grips with conflicts at an earlier stage than previously. Thanks to my mentor, I have received acknowledgement but also seen my opinions questioned. I value my own “trademark” better now.

Jörgen Fältsjö
Managing director, Kraftplan AB

The Minerva Foundation has extensive experience of mentoring programmes and a very high degree of competence and experience, which characterises the entire process. Their work is based on solid ethical values giving the programme a high degree of credibility in my view. They show genuine interest in me. For my part, in my role as mentor, I feel great respect for my mentee’s development.

Athanasia Karafylloudi
Lawyer specialised in penal law

I am a lawyer and come from Greece. The mentoring programme has meant a lot for me since I lacked a personal network of contacts when I came to Dalarna. My mentor is a lawyer specialised in the same area as me. In Stockholm, I have been able to accompany my mentor at work and that has given me a lot of know-how to do with the legal profession in Sweden. The insight into the profession that my mentor helped me to acquire, is something I wouldn’t have been able to achieve in any other way.

Cynthia Gustavsson
Global Inventory Control, Atlas Copco

I am a manager in an extremely male-dominated business and am responsible for Supply Chain in 23 countries. My mentor’s field of work also covers the entire world. The mentoring programme has also given me the opportunity to reflect and has enabled me to see my leadership role in perspective.

The unique aspects of the Minerva mentoring programme
